WASATCH BACK
REAL ESTATE MARKET OVERVIEW

Q1 2024

ABOUT THIS REPORT

Our Utah real estate markets benefit from the many factors that draw people and business to our state:

- Attractive Business Environment
- Educated Workforce
- Low Unemployment
- Job creation and strongest Labor Force since 2010
- Strong Economy
- 95% Economic Diversity
- Low State and Local Taxes
- State-of-the-Art International Airport
- Healthy Lifestyles
- Olympic Prospect (Winter 2034)
- Abundant Outdoor Activities
- Safe Neighborhoods
- Great School Districts

The resort-area markets in Utah remain very attractive relative to many national markets. Our non-resort market areas have proven to be more reactive and have largely followed a pattern similar to US national markets. However, the strength and resilience of our state economy, job growth migration and family formation compare very favorably to most other US markets.

Real estate along the Wasatch Back remains attractive for both investment and primary homeowners, as buyers look for stability and quality of life. With lead times for new construction, our development properties are faring well as buyers are attracted by the idea of purchasing in the future while reserving their property at today's market pricing.

Up until very recently, the inventory of homes for sale has been at historical lows. However, the recent moderation of interest rates has created momentum in the market as we begin 2024. Buyer interests are evident as well-priced and well-conditioned properties have been moving quickly, sometimes in multiple offer situations. This is further evident as buyers secure properties at current prices, foreseeing the chance to refinance in a more favorable interest rate climate and capitalize on home value appreciation.

*For all data, we have used median sales price and average sales price. The median is the middle point of all prices—half the sales are less than the median and half the sales are more. The average is all the property prices added together and then divided by the number of properties. The difference between the median and the average is that the median is not as affected by outlying very large or very small sale numbers, whereas the average can be skewed significantly by one very high or very low sales price. We believe it's important to use both median and average in order to give a holistic view of the market.

As always, it is imperative to get real-time professional help related to your real estate goals. Contact your Berkshire Hathaway HomeServices Utah Properties agent for guidance on navigating our complex micro-markets.
